FOREWORD

We hope the following pages of this annual will revive pleasant memories for those of Lago High, and that they evoke favorable comments from all other people who may read it.

This book is filled with mementos of many different parties, sports events, picnics, loafing moments, and working ones. It is a tribute to the graduation senior class as a final record of happenings in their high school careers, although it is by no means characteristic of only seniors. In it there is something for everyone; particles which make up a precious treasure of past events.

Dedication

This annual is for the Seniors, as is the purpose of most yearbooks. In view of the fact that so many Seniors are on the Pan-O-Ram staff, we feel it is proper for us to dedicate this issue to Mr. John L. Krebs, our yearbook advisor.

Counseling, urging us to meet our deadlines, sharing our headaches when things went wrong; Mr. Krebs has shared all these and many more.

We hope he feels that we have done a job worthy of approval by those who read our annual.

The Principal

Congratulations to the yearbook staff for a superb edition of the Pan-O-Ram! May this volume be to you who are being graduated a long term treasury bond. In the market place of memory its value will increase. You will get dividends from it every time you open it, and it will be one book you will never throw away.

It is the earnest hope of the faculty that the lessons learned here at Lago High School will be of real value to you, the graduates of 1955, in all your future endeavors. May all your efforts in college and the world of work be successful.

DEAN V. THOMPSON

Administration

In order for the students of Lago High School to walk briskly in the halls from class to class while grasping the different fields of knowledge, and so that the teachers, too, may instruct us in accordance with the highest standards of pedagogy, there must be a central group to supervise these functions. The Lago Colony School Advisory Committee, including Mr. Thompson and Mr. Smith, are the working administration for this aspect of the school's affairs. Their responsibilities include regulating standards of grades and subjects, selecting teaching materials, supervising athletic programs and extracurricular activities, and overseeing other general operation and maintenance problems. These men gather together the most fundamental prerequisites of a normal school system, and the result is the finished product of Lago High.

Gerald David Barnes

A good friend never offends
JAMES BOWELL

Beginning life in Tampico, Mexico, Jerry came to Aruba in 1938 at the toddling age of one. He is versatile, being interested in various sports, especially in golf and bowling (also women, on the sly). He is well known for his friendly disposition, his irresistible smile, his capability in handling the funds for various groups, and will be remembered for his generosity in furnishing many of us with chewing gum.

Jerry plans to go into the field of Business Administration, which he will take up at Gettysburg College in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. We predict great success in Jerry's future.

Daniel Webster Brewer

In quietness and confidence shall he lie strength
OLD TESTAMENT

Danny is one of Lago's "originals," having been born on the "rock." Though an Aruban by birth, he is an ardent defender of the South. Danny spends his spare time working for the Sea Scouts, "jerking" sodas at the Esso Club, bowling, and working on the Annual. Danny's quiet good looks make some people think he is the serious type, but he has a terrific sense of humor and enjoys a good time.

Though the name Daniel Webster suggests a famous orator, Danny tends to the mathematical side. He plans to take up Aeronautical Engineering at Louisiana State University.

Noël Coakley

A merry heart that laughs at care
HENRY HART MILMAN

"Co-Co" may be the smallest girl in the Senior class, but she certainly doesn't lack in energy and personality. She has been adding spark to her class since 1946, the year she arrived on our "sunny isle." Noël is proud of her New York origin, but we know how much she's going to miss Aruba when she leaves next fall. Noël's favorite haunts are the beach and the Esso Club, where she spends her hours being friendly and having a wonderful time doing it.

Barry College is her choice for this fall, but beyond that her plans are indefinite.

David Conrad Dodge

Gentle of speech, beneficent of mind

MEMBER

David, the hard-working Senior President, has proved to be capable and efficient in managing the many and varied affairs of the class. With all his extra-curricular activities, it's a wonder he has time to handle the responsibilities of this position. Whenever he has a chance he heads for the beach, where he enjoys himself swimming, boating, and spearfishing. David is so versatile that he switches from the more active sports to quiet reading with ease.

He plans to study engineering at Notre Dame, although with his smooth good looks the girls wish he would go to a co-ed college.

Mary Brenda Engle

*To begale with talk the slow-moving hours
over*

Brenda might as well claim Aruba as her birthplace, because she has been here since she was a month old. Well known for her sparkling personality and her "gift-of-gab," she finds time to hold the responsible position of co-editor of the Pan-O-Ram Weekly. A versatile person, Brenda switches from literary to athletic endeavors, and her hours of recreation are taken up with reading and swimming. She is also a frequent and charming hostess, as her many parties have proved.

Brenda will take her talents to the halls of St. Lawrence next fall to break into the field of Business Administration.

Daniel Max Jones

Although he is rough he is kindly
LONGFELLOW

Danny is most well known as the first Senior to obtain a much desired driver's license. Therefore, he and his "hot-rod" have been established as familiar figures in Lago. Danny has also broken quite a few records in the track program. He was "tops" in the javelin, discus, and shot put events during the years in which he participated.

Danny's personality is extreme, ranging from moody quietness to devilish gaiety, keeping all those around him on their toes. His future plans point toward the same direction as those of his older brother and sister, the service of his country.

Eugene Bruce Keesler

Solitude is often the best society
W. G. BENHAM

Bruce, a New Jerseyite, settled in our midst in 1943. Although he never was interested in most sports, bowling was one of his favorite pastimes. If Bruce was not in the bowling alleys, he was home working on his car. His interest in auto mechanics was strong enough to promote a great deal of reading along that line.

Bruce is very willing to accept responsibilities, as being a Student Council Vice-President denotes. When any class projects arise, he is among the first to offer assistance. Although Bruce's future plans are indefinite, we are sure he will find what he wants.

Reginald Jerome Kennerty

*Laughter's never an end,
It's a by-product*
STRUTHERS BURT

Reggie's cheerful smile and blithe disposition are as familiar around Lago as rain at Christmas. His friendly manner has established him in the hearts of many Lago people, and his sunny temperament at the door of the Esso Club Theater will be missed a great deal next September. Reggie is a regular live wire all around, as his activities range from music to sports and also include working on the Pan-O-Ram Weekly and Annual.

He plans to return to his home state of South Carolina, where he intends to take up Business Administration at the University of South Carolina.

Hendrika Koster

We know nothing of tomorrow; our business is to be good and happy today

SYDNEY SMITH

Rickie adds international flavor to the Senior class because of her Dutch ancestry, and, as is fitting, she was born in Aruba. She is lucky enough to spend her vacations in Europe, although she looks forward to becoming a citizen of the United States. Rickie is usually found at the beach, where she just relaxes and has a splashing time. She and her French boen are seen in both the School Band and the Community Band, and her alto voice is heard in the Chorus.

This fall Rickie wants to attend Western College to prepare for a career in teaching.

David Henry Lloyd

Skill and confidence are an unconquered army
GEORGE HERBERT

Because David is both long and lean, it seems natural that he is so active in sports of all kinds. If he isn't on the field of the current sport, then he may be found at the beach—boating, swimming or participating in Sea Scout activities. His artistic ability has been contributed to numerous school functions. He is proficient not only in sports and art, but also excels in music.

David has brought honors to the class of 1955 by placing highly in the track meets and entering most activities offered. His plans include Penn State University and Mechanical Engineering.

James David Massey

*A man he seems of cheerful yesterdays
and confident tomorrows*
WILLIAM WORDSWORTH

Another David, also tall and lanky, came to Aruba in 1948 from our capital city, Washington, D. C. David's easy-going manner has won him many friends, and among them are some of the other fans of Western music like himself. His capability is shown by some of the worthwhile work he has done on the Annual and in class matters. He also has a flair for photography and holds one of the offices in the school Camera Club.

David likes the South and has the honor of being the first Senior to be accepted by a college, namely Emory in Georgia.

Patricia Elizabeth Pakordi

Pleasure and action make the hours seem short

SHAKESPEARE

Patti is an ideal representative of the class of 1955. Active in most sports, she is outstanding in all her endeavors. Another enjoyable pastime for her is playing the accordion and tenor saxophone. She enters not only activities requiring individual accomplishments, but also those that demand co-operation. The duties of a Pan-O-Ram Weekly co-Editor, Bowling League President, and Student Council President show that.

Patti's intense interest, unlimited energy, and hard work will be missed around Lago in the future. She plans to attend Cornell, and we are sure she will meet with great success there as she did in Aruba.

Philip Van Tassle Schoonmaker

*I had rather have a fool to make me
sorry than experience to make me sad*

SHAKESPEARE

Although born in Paris, Phil has lived in Aruba most of his life. Wherever there is much going on, you will find him. Parties hold great fascination for Phil, where his good sense of humor, devilish antics and smooth dancing shine. At the beach he dives with sharp form and sails with little effort. An "out" for his unlimited energy is the drums. For the past three years, Phil's agility on the snare drums has been an asset to the school band.

The near future is uncertain for Phil; however, we wish him the best of luck.

Mary Ellen Straub

*I do love to note and to share
from joyous*

Mary Ellen's petite figure is a familiar sight among the otherwise completely male assemblage of the School Camera Club, as she holds the honorable position of president. She is the conscientious assistant editor of the Yearbook and lends her talents well in this line. She is one of the later additions to the Senior class, having joined us in 1949, when she came from Coatesville, Pennsylvania.

It is Mary Ellen's ambition to plunge into the field of journalism after she attends Ohio State University—big plans for a small girl, but there's no reason why she can't do it.

At one time the future of the Student Council did not look particularly promising because this organization was merely an unprogressive student group with an impressive name. Today, however, under the counsel of Mr. Smith and Mrs. Donohue, the Council has earned for itself the name which means to everyone, the students' governing body. The responsibility placed upon Council members has increased considerably, and with this has come the prestige that is due to those who assume it well.

New ideas are accepted and discussed frequently, as are many old ones which the students may favor or request. At the rate the group is going, many good things ought to be achieved for and by the students.

This year's staff is still concerned with getting out an interesting yearbook with more and better pictures than ever before. They always work with a deadline in mind, whether it is next week or next month. Here is the heart and working center of all decisions that make your annual; here are the "brains" who constantly struggle to make you say, "This is the best yearbook yet." Mr. Krebs takes as great pride in seeing his staff bring forth good copy as do the staff themselves. Then they feel that all their after-school work and hours of worry have not been in vain.

The Pan-O-Ram Weekly is in its ninth year of publishing activities and creative articles for the students, faculty, and parents of Lago High. Every Friday afternoon during the last period, the paper is distributed throughout the school as the result of a week's writing, typing, editing, and plain hard work. Only the members of the typing staff know the importance of getting things done on schedule; only they can appreciate the dilemmas involved in a mimeograph machine that is unpredictable, articles that are handed in late, and other such calamities.

Criticisms of the Pan-O-Ram are many, both good and bad, but those who work on it have a feeling of accomplishment as they see the finished product each week.

The Junior Band, which has thirty-one members, was organized for beginners in instrumental music. They rehearse fourth period every Friday to show what they have learned in their individual lessons during the week. In this way, the elementary instrumental students get a chance to play some band music.

The Senior Band people, forty-one strong, are able to play more advanced music. This band plays for sports events, assemblies, and plays. Each year they give a combined concert with the Community Band. The Spring Festival is the most outstanding performance of the year. All band members participate in this show, playing novelty numbers, marches, and folk songs.

Both bands are directed by Mrs. Koulman.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleaders are a familiar and welcome sight at all home games. Both groups have the same objectives: they strive for neatness, precision of movement, co-operativeness, and good sportsmanship. The two groups differ in that the Junior Varsity cheerleaders are younger girls who cheer for the Junior team, while the Varsity, who are upperclassmen, root for the Varsity team.

The baton twirlers are also seen performing with the High School Band at the home games and for outside activities. The squad consists of four to seven girls who learn to perfect their steps to music and execute them with speed, smoothness, variety, and poise. They strive for technique rather than exaggerated execution.

The Senior Chorus, for grades 9-12, is made up of all the students who have any desire to sing. One needs no previous knowledge of music or special training. It is organized to promote group singing and enjoyment that can be had from music. The group is made up of 4-part voices—alto, soprano, tenor, and bass. This year a large number of boys have been added to the tenor and bass sections of the chorus. Various types of arrangements are sung, ranging from religious pieces to medleys from Broadway shows, Negro spirituals and radio selections. Miss Payne, with her inexhaustible patience, has contrived to make an outstanding high school chorus. At various times during the school year, functions are put on for the public.

Miss Payne's Junior High Chorus was formed chiefly for the purpose of satisfying musical interest among the seventh and eighth grade students. They meet every Thursday noon to rehearse, rather than during normal school hours, because this diversion is not actually on their list of scheduled activities.

The Glee Club is made up of about twenty girls in high school. This group meets every Tuesday noon

The Vocal Ensemble is a small group of students who get together to rehearse on their own time. They sing at public functions and also take part in the Spring Festival.

Photography Club

Advisor
J. Krebs

The Camera Club not only operates for the purpose of learning the principles of photography, but also furnishes the Annual with the nucleus of a photography staff. In their weekly meetings they discuss and perform methods of taking, developing, printing, and enlarging various kinds of pictures. They also take field trips, on which they often secure picturesque scenes of Aruba. Because the Camera Club is so closely linked with the work done by the Annual staff, its functions encourage more student participation on the staff through a separate activity. The hard-working photographers gain valuable experience from the successes or failures they produce with their own hands.

Library Council

This organization aims to provide the students with an opportunity to become better acquainted with the library, to stimulate the students' reading, and, through this library experience, to develop helpful interest. Each girl who works is required to spend at least one 45-minute period a week in the library. Her duties include the following: taking care of the books, shelving, carding, and mending them. Another duty is to keep one section of the shelves in order. In order to promote creative ability and emphasize specific types of books, each girl is responsible for one bulletin board display during the year.

The Junior Art Clubs were organized to promote further study of more advanced art. It was intended for those who took art previously and who are now interested in still life and landscapes in Aruba. Unity of color, idea and composition are stressed. Because Miss Thomas left in the middle of the year, this class was dissolved for lack of an instructor.

The advanced art group, with Miss Payne, practices various techniques and attempts drawing in the style of modern art. These older students are taught to appreciate art more and to see art in the world around them. This has been a well-attended class in Lago High, and the appreciation of art is quite pronounced in this group.

Instructor: Mr. J. Leary

The Puppet Club provides an excellent chance for all students to learn how to construct those gangling marionettes, as well as to use the different tools needed for different stages of construction. Mr. Leary also teaches his club members how to pull the necessary strings to make the wooden figures move various parts of their bodies.

Often on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, a number of people may be seen in the halls carrying unpainted, disjointed future characters, the products of vivid imaginations. Perhaps a brightly-colored puppet extravaganza may arise in the future, as the fruit of ambitious and patient preparation.

Mr. Turner's Social Club is only in its first year, but it has turned out to be a popular activity with all the participants. This club is designed to help the members of the seventh grade know how to act in various social situations. They are taught how to behave at gatherings of all kinds, how to converse with strangers, how to write and answer invitations, and other ordinary rules of etiquette. This is the first time an activity of this kind has been started at Lago High, and it is hoped that it will continue after this year.

For the first year in organized competition, Lago played soccer. Although the record was not so good, the spirit was high and a better season is expected to come next year.

In league competition Lago won none, lost 5, and had one tie. In non-league games Lago lost four, won one, and tied one.

Coach Downey held a rough schedule with two games and two practices a week. The season was delayed by about two weeks due to the weather.

Soccer is part of the Interscholastic Sports events and will be a part of Lago's full schedule every year.

GIRLS P.T.

The sports year for girls started rolling with hockey in October. At the beginning of January basketball began and lasted till April. Gym classes were on Tuesdays and Thursdays for all girls' sports. Besides the games the girls played among themselves, the basketball team played some games with other island teams. April saw the beginning of volley ball which continued for that month only and softball concludes the girls' sports for the year of 1955. Without the excellent coaching of Mr. Dunne our year would not have been as successful as it was.

This year Lago has enjoyed probably its best basketball season ever. Lago has won 12 league games and lost none. The individual high game score was topped ten points to 86. In exhibition games Lago has won 8 and lost none. Coach Downey did all in his power to obtain as many games as possible.

The starting five might never be equaled again in the future: Lloyd, Dodge, Riggs, Spitzer, Kennerly,—all are experienced men and led the team to victory after victory. Lloyd was the team's high scorer. He tried to beat Al Leak's record of 202 points in one season, but was unable to do so. His high game score was 22; and he did it twice. The team's average after the 12 games was 63 points. We hope that future teams have good seasons such as this one, the '55 season. Never before has Lago been "undefeated," as it was this year.

The Junior Varsity has had a very successful season this year—they lost only one league game, but did, however, win the league with an 11-1 record. Out of 15 total games the team has won 12. Led by first stringers, Norcom, Jones, Owen, Burkard, and Johnson, the team won the league with easy victories. Aruba Trade was the only team able to beat Lago.

One good point is that out of the entire "B team," only one, Danny Jones, will graduate. Think of the strength of the team next year and the year after! This is a direct result of good management of the team by Coach Downey. We are sure that the entire team will join the annual staff of '55 in thanking Coach Downey for his efforts concerning the yearbook and the sports program.

Lago boys participated in two main track events this year. The first, in April, held at Lone Palm Stadium was within Lago. David Lloyd took top honors with twenty points or four first places. S. Norcom and L. Riggs tied for second with two firsts, two seconds and three firsts and a third respectively. Seven records were broken that night, four by D. Lloyd.

The second track and field meet was held at Lago Sports Park in May. This was the Interscholastic School Meet. Lago took first place in this meet with four firsts. This is an annual meet and will be held every year.
